Happy New Year —With a Smaller Paycheck

This is the last week your paycheck will look as healthy as it does today.

Beginning with the pay which covers the first week you work in January, your State income tax obligation will be satisfied from week to week—or however often you are handed your routine necessity.

The determination to collect State tax via withholding finished seven years of controversy as the Governor signed into law the statewide payroll withholding tax plan.

Most of us are paying the tax now, but we're paying it in lump sums. So it won't cost us any more than before. And—let's face it—it'll be a lot easier to pay as withholding than it was as an annual one-time obligation.

In exchange for permitting it to be collected weekly, it will bring into the tax fold those thousands who have been able to beat the tax rap one way or another for the years past.

Employers will have the responsibility to collect the tax from eight million or so California workers. For this additional labor they will receive no payment at all. Rather, the employer will suffer certain jeopardy if he fails to collect or to keep his records correctly. Certainly, somehow, employers should be given financial reward for the multitudinous records he is now forced to keep for government.

In addition to bringing into the tax fold those who have been beating the rap, the complex tax measure contains provisions for increased bank and corporation tax rates, decreased oil and gas depletion allowances, and other items scheduled to provide an overall boost in state government revenues amounting to more than $350 million for the current fiscal year.

The tax bill also included provisions for more than a billion dollars in expenditures over the next three years for senior citizen property tax relief, reimbursements to local governments for land conservation programs and inventory losses, and crucial budget-balancing enactments.

The bill also sets aside $150 million for construction programs including local school earthquake safety efforts, higher education facilities, and state beaches, parks and conservation projects.

The new bill, however, tightens the noose around the throat of every worker in California. It gives the unsettling feeling that it will permit State spenders to call on workers a lot easier for whatever spending programs the state bureaucrats dream up.

It closed a strange legislative year in which the lawmakers gave themselves a healthy increase in salary—and made sure the toiling worker paid for his profligacy.

Little Red Riding Hood—1972

One of our readers submitted a satirical piece written by Rep. Ed Eshleman of Pennsylvania to which the reader appended the notation "I wish I had thought of it."

Referring to the sorry state of our law enforcement mechanism—the mechanism under the control of recent determinations of the Supreme Court—Eshleman wrote the following:

"Once upon a time in a far-away country, there lived a little girl called Red Riding Hood.

"One day her mother asked her to take a basket of fruit to her grandmother, who had been ill and who lived in a cottage in the forest. It happened that a wolf was lurking in the bushes, overheard the conversation, went to the grandmother's house, killed her, dressed in her nightgown and jumped in bed to await the little girl. When Red arrived, he made several nasty suggestions and tried to grab her. She ran screaming from the cottage.

"A woodworker working nearby heard her cries and rushed to her rescue. He killed the wolf with an axe, and Red Riding Hood's life was saved. All the townspeople hurried to the scene and hailed the woodcutter as a hero.

"However, at the inquest, several facts emerged. The wolf had not been advised of his rights. The woodcutter had not made any warning swings of his axe before striking the fatal blow. The defense stressed the point that, although the act of eating grandma may have been in bad taste, the wolf was only 'doing his thing' and thus, should not be punished by death.

"The SDS appeared on behalf of the defense and contended that the killing of Grandma should be considered self-defense since she was over 30 and therefore beyond the age of serious regard. This evidence was convincing enough for it to be decided there was no basis for charges against the wolf.

"On the other hand, it was felt that the woodcutter should be indicted for unaggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

"One year after the 'Incident at Grandma's' her cottage was made into a shrine for the wolf who died and died there. All the village officials spoke, but Red Riding Hood gave the most touching tribute. She said that, while she had been selfishly grateful for the woodcutter's intervention, she now realized he had overreacted.

"As she knelt to place a wreath in honor of the brave wolf, there wasn't a dry eye in the forest."

I wish I'd thought of saying that!

Mrs. Myers Named Secretary Of L.G. Chamber of Commerce

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce board of directors was introduced to its new secretary at the group's regular monthly meeting last week.

Mrs. Donald L. Myers, of 1517 El Prado, replaces Mrs. William Foss, who has served as secretary for the past six years. For the past two years she additionally served as a director. She also served as secretary to the Old Time Days Association.

Mrs. Myers (Helen) has been active in the Mt. Miguel Band Parents Assn. and participated in the years when its most successful fund-raising campaigns were held.

Mrs. Foss (Joyce), who recently suffered the tragic loss of her young adult daughter, is retiring to the role of housewife to "re-organize" herself, she said. She will seek re-election as a chamber director.

Mrs. Myers has had ten years of secretarial and office management experience in Ohio before coming to Lemon Grove.

At Thursday's meeting at Pal's, President Bob Russell announced that the Chamber has sponsored the production of a map which will be supplied free of charge by the chamber. Cost is covered by advertising being solicited by a firm called Byad Corp.

Russell also said that ballots would be mailed next month for election to the board. Chamber rules are that twice as many names must be on the ballot as there are seats available.

The 16 who have agreed to seek a post are:

Also: Del Lake, Del Ron's; Joyce Foss, housewife; Les Cleer, sign firm owner; Frenchy Faucher, postmaster; Joe Davey, Imperial Savings manager; Dr. Jerry Legerton, optometrist; Mike Carlin, L.G. Rexall drugstore, and Steve Tee, manager, Pacific Finance.

At Thursday's meeting John Penery, a Lemon Grove resident who is president of the Inter American Education Foundation, provided the program. He told of the importance of understanding Mexican neighbors. "They will be the most populous nation in the hemisphere in a generation or two," he said.

CHAMBER BUSINESS — Joyce Foss, a six-year employee of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce as its secretary (left) turns over office keys to her successor, Mrs. Helen Myers. Mrs. Foss, who is also a director of the Chamber, said she was going to be a housewife again. Her retirement, though not unexpected, was viewed with regret by the Chamber's board of directors.

Target Date of June Moved to Year's End

A delay in the improvement will have a break near the center of the Imperial-Kempf stretch to accommodate traffic at the cross-over break in the median strip. In addition, the parking control curb will have an opening at the beginning and the end.

An Assessment Act proceeding was initiated November 8 by the County Board of Supervisors to put the program in motion. In addition to TOPICS funds for the project, gas tax funds will be used.

An effort by the Chamber of Commerce to form a County Service District for landscaping the center strip and for paving, striping and regular sweeping of the parking area failed after proponents of the project failed to get the required signatures of property owners.

Palm St. On Schedule
Meanwhile, the widening of Palm street between Imperial and Golden was going along on schedule. Trees have been removed or relocated and water and gas lines have been moved back. The two center lanes of traffic will be paved by February 7, the County Road Department said.

Then their operations will halt for 120 working days, while phone and electric lines are undergrounded.

When completed, Broadway, from Olive to Kempf, will be 80 feet wide including a 16-foot median strip. This strip will separate the opposite flow of traffic. It will have a single break in it between Imperial and Kempf. The break will permit crossovers to parking on the opposite side but U-turns will not be possible.

Four Lanes Over All
The improvements will provide four lanes the entire stretch of Broadway from Campo to College 94 off-ramp. The improvement in center Lemon Grove will have a 26-foot travelway on each side of the median. The nearest lane will be 12 feet wide; the outside lane will be 14 feet for extra safety against traffic entering the thoroughfare.

The privately-owned 30 foot wide parking area on each side of Broadway will be separated from the thoroughfare by six-foot wide traffic controls and gutters. These, too, will be completed.

Expanded Park Operation
Expanded park operation and acquisition such as Heritage, Dos Picos, Potrero, Heise and San Dieguito.

"Much has been accomplished," Craven said. "Much more must be done."

160 Boys Seek 'Big Brothers'
January 1-8 is national Big Brothers Week and Big Brothers of San Diego has a New Year's resolution to suggest to local men.

Why not start the year out right by volunteering to become a friend to a fatherless boy and help him grow into a responsible man?

"Right now we have about 160 boys waiting to be matched with a Big Brother," reports Carl L. Baiter, president of San Diego Big Brothers, "and only through the recruitment of more volunteers can these boys have the adult male companionship they need and want."

Big Brothers Week is being kicked off New Year's Day when Big Brothers of America will have a float in the Rose Parade for the first time. It will be observed in more than 200 communities in the U. S. and Canada where Big Brothers agencies are active.

A Big Brother needn't be a saint nor a Santa Claus — just a regular fellow with a capacity for warmth and friendliness and the willingness to give some of his spare time to a boy growing up without a father in the home.

Men wishing to volunteer should contact the San Diego Big Brothers office — 234-9158, 8 p.m.

7-Day Rainfall Brings 2 Inches

It rained every day from December 22-29, reported Bob Adams, meteorologists attached to the Lemon Grove Fire Station.

The daily storms brought a total of 2.31 inches of rain to the area and it brought the season's total to 4.31 inches.

Last year at this period the total had reached 5.79.

The storm on Monday left only .30 of an inch of rain in the measuring gauge—but it seemed like more as various parts of the area were pelted with an extremely heavy downpour.

Rainfall season is measured from July 1.

Tax Guide Available From IRS

A new publication written in Spanish and designed to assist Spanish-speaking taxpayers in filing their federal income tax returns is now available to the public, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The IRS is one of the few federal agencies to publish a major instructional aid in a foreign language.

Henry M. Ramirez, chairman of the Cabinet Committee on Opportunities for Spanish-Speaking People, said, "This is one of the first steps by a government agency in realizing the needs of the Spanish-speaking population—the second largest minority in the United States."

Spanish is the most widely used foreign language in the United States today. The cabinet committee said there are about 12 million people of Spanish origin in the United States.

In addition to the heavy concentrations of Spanish-speaking people in New York, Illinois, California, Texas and Florida, Spanish-Americans reside in every state of the nation. Many Spanish-speaking people face a language barrier when they prepare the English-language federal income tax return.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Emplear" means "to employ." In Spanish-speaking circles we might hear this word being used in phrases like "Van a emplear mas gente." (They are going to employ more people.), "Desean emplear a ellos." (They want to employ them.), and "Yo espero emplear todos." (I hope to employ everyone.).

"Empleo" is the noun form taken from emplear. "Empleo" is equivalent to "employment" in English. We may use this in conversational phrases like "El no tiene empleo." (He does not have employment.), "El busca empleo." (He seeks employment.), and "Necesitamos mas empleo aqui." (We need more employment here.).

"Emplea," pronounced "ehm-PLA-ah," is a verb form. This may appear in phrases like "Quien emplea a usted?" (Who employs you?), "Como se empleo uno?" (How does one become employed?), and "La tienda emplea hombres y mujeres." (The store employs men and women.).

"Emplea" may also imply "invest." This is seen in expressions like "Donde emplea usted su dinero?" (Where do you invest your money?), "El emplea su dinero en bonos." (He invests his money in bonds.), and "Ella emplea mucho dinero en casas." (She invests a lot of money in houses.).

"Empleado" means "employee." We may use this in phrases like "Que buen empleado." (What a good employee.), "Es usted un empleado de aqui?" (Are you an employee here?) and "El es un empleado favorito." (He is a favorite employee.). If the employee is female we change the form to "empleada" and say "Ella es una empleada favorita." (She is a favorite employee.), or "Ella es la unica empleada." (She is the only employee.).

"Empleamos" can mean "we employ." This may be used in expressions like "Empleamos secretarias." (We employ secretaries.), "Empleamos muchos trabajadores." (We employ many workers.), and "Empleamos mecanicos." (We employ mechanics.).

The following phrases continue to demonstrate the various forms of "emplear." You may enjoy learning to say them when you dial 276-2762.

OTHER PHRASES:

Say "Tiene usted empleo?" (tee-EH-nah oo-STEHD ehm-PLA-ah) for "Do you have employment?"

Say "No tengo empleo." (noh TEHN-goh ehm-PLA-oh) for "I do not have employment."

Say "Emplea usted dinero en bonos?" (ehm-PLA-ah oo-STEHD dee-nah-roh ehn BOH-nohs) for "Do you invest money in bonds?"

Say "Yo empleo dinero en casas." (yoh ehm-PLA-ah dee-NEH-roh ehn KAH-sahs) for "I invest money in houses."

Say "Que espera usted hacer?" (keh eh-SPEH-rah oo-STEHD ah-SHR) for "What do you hope to do?"

Say "Yo espero emplear mas gente." (yoh ehm-PLA-ah ehm-pleh-AHR mahs HEN-teh) for "I hope to employ more people."

COMBO Gives Away Proceeds From Auctions

Combined Arts and Education Council officers distributed more than $74,000 in auction receipts to ten cultural beneficiaries last week.

The funds represent partial receipts from COMBO's two auctions held December 10 and 11 in the San Diego Community Concourse.

Exact total dollars realized from the auctions have not yet been determined as payment on items purchased continue to come in to the COMBO office, but COMBO President Fielder K. Lutes said tabulations are moving toward the $175,000 mark.

Approximately 1,100 items, ranging from the exotic and unusual to practical household gifts, were sold at the two COMBO auctions.

...about your Social Security

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by William Breese, El Cajon Social Security Office Manager.

Q. I operate a vegetable farm in Spring Valley. During the year I hire three workers to help me. I understand that I don't have to pay social security taxes on them, unless I hire four or more workers. Is this correct?

A. No. You must report any and all employees on your farm who are paid at least $150 in cash in a year, or who work for you on 20 or more days during a year for cash wages figured on a time basis (hour, day, etc.). The number of employees is immaterial.

Q. How can a person, disabled since childhood, become eligible for monthly cash benefits?

A. When a parent starts collecting social security benefits any of his children who become disabled prior to age 18 can get monthly benefits if they remain disabled. The same holds true if the parent dies; — he would then be eligible for survivors benefits.

Q. I recently moved just across the street from my old address. Since the mailman knows where I live, is it really necessary to change my address?

A. Yes. Your present mailman may know where you live, but a new one may look for you at the address shown on the check. If he doesn't find you there, he may return the check to the U. S. Treasury Department, and delivery of your check will be delayed.

Q. When I first applied for my social security card, I used my nickname. Now that I have started working full time, I use my proper name. Does it make any difference what my nickname is on the card?

A. Yes. To ensure that your earnings record is accurate and, up to date, you should contact any social security office and have your name corrected.

Q. In addition to paying me cash wages, the farmer I work for furnishes me with room and board. Can the value of this room and board be counted as wages for social security purposes?

A. No. If you work on a farm, only wages paid in cash count for social security purposes.

Q. I have a 20-year-old daughter who is studying to be a beautician. If I retire, can she get monthly benefits from social security on my earnings record?

A. If you receive monthly social security benefits, your daughter can also receive benefits until she reaches age 22 if she is a full-time student in an accredited school, and remains unmarried.

Q. I recently took a part-time job for the holidays after 12 years of homemaking. I know my social security number, but I have misplaced my card. My employer insists on seeing my card. What must I do to get another one?

A. Ask for a duplicate card at any social security office.

Q. What is the most important thing to do when filing a Medicare claim?

A. All parts of a Medicare claim are important. Each item is valuable and necessary. Signing the claim is, of course, most necessary. Also the correct claim number is a must.

Q. I am 68 and collect monthly social security retirement benefits. I also work part time during the year. How often should I ask the social security office to refigure my benefit, based on additional earnings, to see if I am due an increase in my checks?

A. You do not have to request the social security office to refigure your benefits. This is done automatically each year.

Q. Because of excess earnings I am not eligible for a monthly social security check, but I did sign up for Medicare when I was 65. Since I receive a Veterans Administration pension, can I arrange to have my Medicare premium deducted from it?

A. No. Medicare premiums may be deducted only from social security, railroad retirement, and civil service annuity checks.

Greek Party Held By Frosh English Class

"This certainly was an unusual day," said Mrs. Helen Tubb, Monte Vista high school English teacher, as she mopped her brow after a recent "Greek Festival" in her freshman English class.

Mrs. Tubb's class had been studying Greek mythology and Odyssey, and each student was asked to do something creative with what he had learned.

Frosh Barb Badgett and Laura Cartledge decided that a Greek party, complete with food, music and "Olympic games," would be creative. "We kind of got carried away," Laura said.

The Olympic games included two favorite Greek sports, the discus throw and the javelin toss, slightly modified. Modified means paper plates were used instead of a real discus. But that didn't make any difference to champion Barry Lockwood.

Mark Ganzel threw the modified javelin (a weighted straw) far enough to steal first place.

Both winners were awarded the laurel wreath and a pack of chewing gum.

Another game was Odysseus Travels, a Greek version of Monopoly, but instead of going to jail, the players were "eaten" by the Cyclops, a mythological one-eyed monster.

Barb and Laura got the recipes for their refreshments from various books. Included on the menu was Moussaka, a mixture of eggplant, hamburger, tomato sauce, spices and cheese on top; orange Honey Crescents and Honey Puffs; and Zwieback Delights made of six eggs, milk and a box of Zwieback.

An attempted armed robbery at the Photo-Mat booth at 668 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley, was thwarted last Tuesday evening when the robber fled as another customer pulled up to the business.

According to a clerk at the business, a youth, about 17-years old, 5'8" with long wavy brown hair approached the booth on foot, demanding money and stating that he had a gun in his jacket pocket.

At that time, however, a customer pulled up to the drive-through shop and the suspect fled on foot, traveling north on Sweetwater rd., and the clerk phoned the Sheriff's Department.

A check of the area for the suspect was conducted but yielded negative results. Deputies observed a 15-year-old youth in a drainage ditch in the vicinity, but the clerk said that he was not the suspect.

BANQUET CHAIRMAN — Mrs. Cal'ie Camarda of Spring Valley has been named Chairman of Bill Sumner's Campaign Banquet.

The Campaign Banquet will be held at The Oxbow Inn, 9816 Campo Road in Spring Valley on February 11th at 7:00 P.M. Tickets are available at $100 donation per couple. Telly and Jim Campbell, owners of The Oxbow, will assist Mrs. Camarda with arrangements and menu.

Brandon De Wilde Due In Off Broadway Play

Brandon De Wilde, the youngster whose plaintive entreaty to "Come back, Shane," in the Alan Ladd starring film "Shane," put lumps in the throat of an entire nation, is one of the stars of "Butterflies Are Free," which opened December 28 at the Off Broadway Theatre, also starring Marjorie Lord.

De Wilde is, of course, a grown man now and will portray the stout-hearted blind boy, in the Leonard Garshe comedy, who is trying to escape a dominating, over-protective mother and has a romance with the kooky but cuddly young lady living next door.

As a child, De Wilde was starred in many motion pictures as well as on the Broadway stage. "Butterflies Are Free" marks the return to the Off Broadway Theatre of Marjorie Lord who was starred here last spring in Vincent Mirand's successful production of another Broadway stage hit, "Forty Carats."

Lemon Grove Community Marks Progressive Year During 1971

1971 was another progressive year for Lemon Grove, with the formation and finalization of the Lemon Grove Planning Association and the approval of improvements for Broadway heading the list of changes for the community.

In January, Chamber of Commerce president Bob Russell called the new year the "time to move" toward goals for the community, and indicated that the Broadway improvements were possibly the most important goals.

Other items of interest in January included the beginning of plans by the Grossmont High School District for additional facilities, the first meetings began to discuss the development of the Lemon Grove youth center, and the Lemon Grove School District began following closely the proposed Angelus Heights subdivision, which has since been designated the "Imperial-80" project.

Petition Signing Lags
February was somewhat of a month of turmoil, as petition signing for proposed improvements on Broadway lagged. Two Lemon Grove School Board members announced plans for retirement. Supervisor Harry Scheidle was acquitted of violation of the election code, and petitions were circulated protesting housing developments for the area.

As signature-seeking Bob Russell continued to get enough names on the Chamber of Commerce petition in favor of certain improvements on Broadway, he found that a small group of property owners were holding out against the petition.

Robert Sjogren and Lyle Stumbaugh, who had served the Lemon Grove School District for a total of 20 years, announced that they would not seek re-election to the board.

Report on PRD's
In March, the Lemon Grove Planning Association and CoFC listened to reports from developers on proposed Planned Residential Developments, candidates filed for April's school board elections, the county planning commission rejected plans for a PRD, and the LG Planning Association called a community-wide meeting for discussion of PRD's and the Broadway improvements.

April, an election month, was a time of a good deal of activity, as candidates were announced, entries came in for the Miss Lemon Grove contest, Bob Russell was re-elected Chamber of Commerce president, and winners of school board elections and the Miss Lemon Grove Contest were named.

Winners Listed
After vigorous campaigning by most candidates, the school board trustees were given to: Portia Goode and Dale Burke in the Grossmont College election, Ken Whitcomb and Robert Andreen in the Grossmont High School Election, and Jim Dorman and Henry Reinecke in the Lemon Grove School District election.

Of ten candidates, Miss Laura Bolieu, a blue-eyed brunette, was selected Miss Lemon Grove.

Other news in April included the approval of the Lemon Grove Youth Center and work on the Lemon Grove School District 1971-72 budget.

Old Time Days
In May, the Lemon Grove Old Time Days celebrations were in evidence, as well as a county budget that called for an increase in taxes, increased tax assessments, trouble with the Imperial-80 PRD, and the Grand Opening of the Lemon Grove Youth Center.

This year's parade was the biggest ever, according to parade chairman Bob Mastney, with KOGO-Radio personality Art Way, a Lemon Grove resident, serving as Grand Marshal. The Parade was held at 11 a.m. May 22 with a squadron of old time airplanes flying over Broadway.

On May 21, the Lemon Grove Youth Center held its kickoff dance with free admission to junior high youngsters and a live rock band.

Imperial-80 Trouble
Problems with the Imperial-80 project for the school district centered around an agreement between the district and the developers of the project which would have supplied the district with funds necessary to provide temporary school facilities for youngsters living in the development. The agreement was not reached, and has not yet been reached.

In June, Miss Lemon Grove ran for the Fairest of the Fair title at the Southern California Exposition, Bob Russell was installed for a second term as CoFC president, Supervisors trimmed $12 million from the county budget, and a local church group began picketing of "The Naughty Spot", a Lemon Grove saloon which features nude dancers.

Interim Rezone
Other news in June included consideration by county planners on placing much of Lemon Grove under an interim zone in order to cut down on controlled development. The interim zone concept was brought up through local residents petitioning against proposed developments.

Also in June, the grand opening of Lemon Grove's newest supermarket, the Alpha Beta Market at 7117 Broadway, was held.

July was another busy month in Lemon Grove, as the Grossmont High School District announced plans for a $19.5 million bond issue which later failed, interim zoning gained support, supervisors trimmed the county budget further, budgets were announced by many school districts, and the Lemon Grove Youth Center began feeling pain from a lack of monetary support.

Budget Trimmed
Supervisors trimmed away at the county budget through most of the month until an increase of only 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation was estimated. Later, however, the actual figure was set at 19.4 cents.

In August, the Grossmont High School District trustee heard reports and recommendations in favor of relaxing the drug policy, the Lemon Grove Youth Center received a new director, rate hikes for gas, electric, and telephone services were approved, and supervisorial redistricting was undertaken.

Supervisorial redistricting included support for two plans, one by Jack Walsh, known as Plan 7, and one by Jim Bear, known as Plan 13. Bear, while Walsh was running for Mayor of San Diego, was able to muster enough support for his plan to get it approved later with only minor changes.

Back to School
September, with youngsters headed back to school, brought a good supply of news to Lemon Grove, including the final assessment of a 19.4-cent tax hike from the county supervisors, an arrest of a local woman on murder charges, continued unification and interim zoning hearings, the Lemon Grove Kids Day parade, and a bleak report from Bob Russell on the Broadway improvements.

Russell, while collecting signatures for the petition, ran into some problems getting a couple of major property owners to sign. The petition was never secured with enough signatures, but improvements, though not as substantial, will be made next year.

Alta Marie Kaiser, of Lemon Grove, was arrested September 5 for the alleged murder of San Diegoan Patrick Murphy, was arraigned September 8, indicted by the Grand Jury September 21, and was arraigned in superior court September 23.

Unification Plan
In October, the county board of education approved a four-district unification concept for the Grossmont area, more trouble arose between the school districts and the Imperial-80 developers, the Grossmont High School District's $19.5 million bond issue was defeated by voters, and election preparations were made for the fire district and water district boards.

Also in October, Rita Wells began a campaign to increase membership in the Chamber of Commerce, and she reported that over 35 new members have been signed since the campaign opened, pulling the chamber out of debt.

In November, the interim rezoning was approved by Supervisors, an election was held in the fire and water districts, and the Imperial-80 project was delayed by the San Diego City Council.

Incumbents Win
In the Helix Irrigation District, incumbent and director of the board, Harry Griffen was re-elected, as were two incumbents in the Lemon Fire Protection District, John Hemmer and Parker Shumate.

In December, Grossmont High School trustees began working out plans to overcome problems caused by the rejection of the bond issue in October, the Mount Miguel marching band took first place in the All-Western Band Review in Long Beach, and subcommittees listed goals with the Lemon Grove Planning Association.

The Grossmont High School District, with the failure of the bond issue, were faced with the problem of where to put students next year since the ninth school will probably not be built in time. Monte Vista High School principal Richard C. Brady indicated that double sessions will more than likely be utilized at Monte Vista to make up for the expected increased enrollment.

National Banks were created by Alexander Hamilton when he was the first secretary of the treasury.

Denver Fox Gets Honors From CCC

Denver C. Fox, principal for the San Diego City-County school camp program, has been voted a special honorary award by the California Conservation Council.

Fox, who is on extended sick leave, was honored for his more than 24 years of leadership in San Diego's nationally recognized program.

Over 300,000 sixth grade children have learned about the outdoors in this program since Fox took it over in 1947. Two of the three camps are located within State Parks — Camp Cuyamaca at Cuyamaca Rancho State Park, and Palomar in Palomar Mountain State Park. The third, Camp Marston, is located near the town of Julian.

In making the award, CCC President Lorren D. Good noted that Fox was one of the persons most responsible for the San Diego program's success, and that he had pioneered teaching techniques now widely used in outdoor education throughout the country.

Gary Holsapple New Operations Officer at Bank

Gary Holsapple has been appointed operations officer at Bank of America's Sweetwater-Jamacha branch in Spring Valley, announced manager Eugene Pierson.

Holsapple, who joined Bank of America in 1968, has been an operations assistant at the Coronado branch for the past year.

Born in St. Louis, he attended high school in Villa Grove, Illinois and now lives on Ruffin road in San Diego with his wife, Kathleen.

Medicare Claims Due

December 31, 1971, is the deadline for filing Medicare claims for medical services received from October 1, 1969, through September 30, 1970, according to William W. Brees, social security district manager in El Cajon.

"The law sets this deadline for paying medical insurance claims," Brees said. "It applies to medical supplies covered by Medicare as well as to services."

Claims are filed on "Request for Medicare Payment" forms available at most doctors' offices and at any social security office.

Run Program Set At YMCA

Beginning January 10, the Heartland YMCA will offer a new session of "Run For Your Life", a program designed to stimulate interest in personal physical fitness through improvement in vigor and stamina of adult men, who, by the nature of our present mode of living are often predisposed to heart disease, obesity, diabetes hardening of the arteries and general unfitness.

Participants begin by enrolling in a 12 week walking-jogging program under the supervision of a trained YMCA exercise instructor. Members will be taught how to exercise and run with safe and sane training principles, counseled on personal fitness problems, and checked periodically as to their progress.

Upon completion of the 12 week session, members will be admitted to the Run For Your Life Club of the Heartland YMCA.

The program meets three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at 5:30 p.m. Each class period lasts 45 minutes, and members are expected to attend all sessions.

Census Bureau Survey Planned

A sample of households in this area will be asked about buying and home improvement expectations when visited by a Bureau of the Census interviewer during the period January 3-15, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles.

The survey is made four times yearly as a part of a nationwide effort to guide governmental agencies in developing programs based on consumer purchasing patterns. Households in the survey will be asked, if they expect to buy a house, car, or major household appliances during the next year, and if they have made recent purchases of these items.

The October 1971 survey showed an increase over July in consumer plans to buy new cars, household appliances, furniture, and carpets. The October survey was conducted in the middle of the 90-day freeze on wages and prices, but the impact of the freeze on income expectations appeared to be minimal.

The March of Dimes has expended $18 million for construction of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies in La Jolla and will spend an average of $4 million per year for its on-going operation.

We hope that the New Year is out of this world for you!

ROUGH SLEDDING — Mount Miguel High School's faculty bit off more than it could chew recently when members of the faculty took on the school's soccer team in a benefit performance. Gulls-Roadrunners to Resume Penalty Battle In Sunday Fray

The San Diego Gulls see in the New Year with a busy three-game weekend, ending on Sunday evening at the Sports Arena when they meet the Phoenix Roadrunners in a 7 o'clock game.

San Diego plays at Seattle on Friday night, New Year's Eve, and travels to Salt Lake City to play the Golden Eagles on Saturday night, New Year's Night, before returning to San Diego to play the 'Runners.

The Gulls hosted the Seattle Totems last night at the Sports Arena to open a full week of action.

"It's a tough schedule, but we have been fairly successful over the past year or two in tripleheaders," said Gulls' General Manager-Coach Max McNab.

The road trip will be an important one to the Gulls, who carried a three-game winless streak into last night's game against Seattle. They had two losses and a tie in their three previous games.

"We have to have a couple of wins before we play Phoenix again on Sunday night," said McNab.

The Gulls carried a 6-0 record against Seattle into last night's game. San Diego had won two games at the Sports Arena and four games in Seattle. The Gulls are 3-1 against Salt Lake and 0-3-2 against Phoenix.

The Gulls played only once last week, but that was

Santee Man Announces Candidacy

A 30-year-old businessman from Santee, Dan Gallardo, has officially announced his candidacy for the unexpired term of 76th District Assemblyman, Pete Wilson, who recently resigned his seat to become mayor of San Diego.

Gallardo explained the major thrust of his campaign will be a restoration of the "Spirit of '76."

"We must re-define our goals and aim once more at the spirit which inspired our founding fathers. This spirit is imperative in our country today, and can be a major goal for the 76th Assembly District."

Gallardo has a law practice in National City and is co-owner of an electrical contracting firm. He was recently appointed by Governor Ronald Reagan to serve on the five-member State Board of Barber Examiners.

Key issues in Gallardo's campaign will include the need for an intensive drug abuse prevention program, he said.

SDG&E Plants Meet Standards, Zitlau Says

The air in San Diego County is going to be cleaner next year — if increased usage of motor vehicles doesn't wipe out some gains made by the San Diego Gas & Electric Company.

Walter A. Zitlau, company president, said that the emission of nitrogen oxides from the firm's various power generating units have been cut significantly as a result of the company's research and development program.

Power plants were the source of 18.94 percent of the nitrogen oxides emitted daily, while motor vehicles accounted for 67.34 percent, as calculated from the 1970 Air Pollution Control District's air emissions inventory.

Mount Miguel Beaten In First Round Of University Tournament

By Paul Stark

St. Augustine High School outscored the Mount Miguel Matadors 31-20 in the final quarter to turn a 3-point lead into a 71-58 victory Monday evening in the first round of the University High School Basketball Tournament.

Mount Miguel controlled the ball well and outshot the Saints from the floor, 25-21, but the Saints converted 29 of 41 free throws, as compared to 8 of 20 for Mt. Miguel.

In the game's first period, Mount Miguel jumped away to a 16-13 lead, primarily on the shooting of Mark Dobransky, Mike Bruner, and Bob Balderas, who accounted for 12 of the 16 tallies.

In the second period, Mt. Miguel was stung on its shuffle system, which calls for the substitution of first, second, and third teams, after each gives up ten points to the opposition.

The Matador second and third teams were outscored 15-7, allowing the Saints to grab a 28-22 halftime advantage.

In the third stanza, the first team came in again and the Matadors got moving quickly, closing the Saint lead to 40-37 after three periods. Mark Dobransky scored nine points in the period, and Steve Ayres looked outstanding defensively.

As the final quarter opened, the Saints began connecting with increasing frequency, opening up a tremendous lead. Mt. Miguel came bouncing back about three quarters through the period to put together a brief rally, closing the Saint lead to eight points.

In the final two minutes, however, the Saints outscored the local team, 11-6, to claim the easy victory. Despite losing the contest, Mt. Miguel had some bright spots, including Dobransky's 23 points and the return of Tim Miller, who has been out with an injured ankle.

In the second round of the tournament, Mt. Miguel was eliminated by the Granite Hills Eagles, as the Eagles came from behind to claim the win, 72-70.

In the first period, it was a see-saw battle, with Granite Hills taking a two-point lead into the second quarter. Things continued on an even basis in the next quarter, as the Eagles took a three-point margin into the dressing room at halftime.

In the third period, Mt. Miguel came to life, hitting from the outside to take a two-point margin into the final stanza.

The local team continued to shoot well in the final period, building up a six-point lead at one point.

About halfway through the period, however, the Eagles' half-court press paid off in several turnovers, which helped the El Cajon team regain the lead.

With four seconds left, Mt. Miguel scored the game's final basket, but the Eagles held on to the ball for the final seconds.

The Eagles won the game at the free-throw line, collecting 12 from the line, while the Matadors made only ten.

Topping the scoring columns were Mark Dobransky for Mt. Miguel and Joe Roth for Granite Hills. Dobransky tossed in a total of 24 tallies, while Roth hit 23 points.

Nick's Picks

Tourneys Over, Loop Action to Commence

With the holiday tournaments pretty much out of the way, high school students will be back in classrooms next week, and prep sports will settle down to league action. Games and matches, with probable winners, follow:

El Cajon at Mt. Miguel, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. El Cajon is pretty much out of contention this year, and will probably not see the upper division in the standings. Mt. Miguel, with the return of Tim Miller, looks like the better team here. Mt. Miguel by 10.

Helix at El Capitan, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. Helix, at the early season, while Madison has had problems with balance. Braves by eight points.

Despite a relatively slow start, Helix is still a good bet for the loop title, while El Cap looks like the third place team. The Vaquero gym, however, will be a tough place for opponents this year, and the Vags get the upset nod here by a single point.

Crossmont at Granite Hills, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. Grossmont is the league co-favorite this season, and the Eagles were picked for about seventh place earlier. Revised forecasts, however, show the Eagles as high as third. Look for a tight game, but Grossmont should get the victory by 3 to 5 points.

Santana at Monte Vista, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. Santana is a good balanced team, stricken with the too-tough-a-league problem. The Monarchs have shown strength against some good schools, although victories have been somewhat elusive. Monte Vista wins this one by 12 points.

Wrestling

The Grossmont College Invitational is happening today at the college, and Grossmont League teams are showing muscle there. Mt. Miguel, Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel rated co-favorites. Mt. Miguel is my pick.

League action will resume next Friday with some interesting matches. Picks will be issued in next week's column.

One league school, El Cajon, will see action Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Madison High School gym. The Braves have traditionally been tough in the early season, while Madison has had problems with balance. Braves by eight points.

Soccer

Three soccer matches involving Grossmont League teams will be staged next week:

El Cajon at Chula Vista, 3 p.m. Tuesday. Soccer is ordinarily a low scoring game, and this contest will be no exception. El Cajon is a relatively new competitor and Chula Vista experience will provide the one-goal victory.

Sweetwater at Mt. Miguel, 3 p.m. Tuesday. Here are a pair of the best teams in the county, and a genuine battle should ensue. Mt. Miguel will have its work cut out to achieve the predicted single-point win.

Crossmont at Henry, 3 p.m. Tuesday. Both teams are new to the sport, and a rivalry has developed between the schools because of this year's CIF Championship Football Game between the two schools. Henry is picked for revenge, by a goal.

Sweeney and Garrison On All-Star Pro Team

Guard Walt Sweeney and wide receiver Gary Garrison will represent the San Diego Chargers on the American Conference All-Star team in the Pro Bowl Game at Los Angeles, Jan. 23.

Sweeney, who extended his consecutive game streak to 126 in 1971, gained All-Star honors for the eighth successive year. Garrison, who caught more than 40 passes for the sixth year in a row, was selected as an All-Star for the second time.

Finishing in third place in the AFC West with a record of 6-8, San Diego distinguished itself as the No. 1 team in the AFC in total offense and the No. 1 team in the National Football League in passing offense.

The Chargers gained 4,738 yards for a 338.4 game average, of which passing accounted for 3,134 yards and a 223.9 average.

Quarterback John Hadl had his busiest and best season. He topped all NFL passers in attempts with 431, completions with 233, yards gained with 3,075 and touchdowns with 21. The 10-year veteran had career highs in completions and completion percentage (.541).

It was his third 3,000-yard plus season.

As a team, the Chargers set a club record for pass completions with 244. Previous mark was 236 in 1960.

San Diego improved dramatically in two 1971 categories — pass protection and interceptions. The Chargers led the AFC in protection by allowing only 19 sacks. In 1970, they had the most with 57. The Chargers raised their interception total from 9 in 1970 to 22 in 1971 with rookie safety Bryant Salter grabbing six while playing less than half the season.

Middle linebacker Bob Babich led the Chargers in tackles with 194, of which 109 were unassisted, for a game average of 13.9. While tackling statistics are unofficial, Babich's total is a club record.

The Chargers set a new home attendance for seven NFL games with 347,530 and a 49,647 average.

LAUGHING LEE TREVINO will attract one of the largest galleries at the fifth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open

Lee Trevino and His Bankroll of $1/4 Million, Due Here For AWSDO

Lee's Fleas, they call them, an opposing force to Arnie's Army and Jack's Pack on the battlegrounds of the nation's golf courses. They should be out in great numbers following Lee Trevino around the Andy Williams San Diego Open on January 27-30 at Torrey Pines to see this rarity of a modern sport, a competitor who laughs and wisecracks in between multi-thousand dollar putts, at the peak of his career.

During 1971 the 32-year-old Mexican-American from Texas won the U.S. British and Canadian Open within the space of a month, accumulated $231,202.97 to finish second in winnings and in exemption points on the tour, and was named Golfer of the Year.

He also remained the same favorite of The Little Man in the White Hat, refusing to take his esteemed position in golf seriously, and staying as happy-go-lucky as when he earned $35 a week as an assistant pro in El Paso.

Typically, he was gracious in his praise when Jack Nicklaus passed him in early December as the leading single-year winner of all time. At the World Cup Matches which he and Nicklaus won in November, he dusted off Jack's chair before they sat down for an interview, explaining that one had to take good care of such a valuable partner.

Only once did he bristle slightly, when reporters asked him about his days as a "hustler." He carefully explained that the term implies cheating. When Lee took on talented El Paso golfers driving his ball around the pitch and putt course with a bottle, he won his bets honestly.

Thus the Laughing Latin, happy hombre image, the unobtrusive good sportsmanship, the human quality of the man contribute to his popularity, but what appeals most to the Fleas is the fact that Trevino's is a real rags-to-riches story.

There was another visit to San Diego when Lee's golf future was not so promising. Lee was entering Marine Corps boot camp three years after having dropped out of school at 14 to help support his mother, three younger sisters and a younger brother.

But even in uniform, Trevino's golf talents emerged as he was twice a member of the championship Inter-Service team and a winner of the Okinawa Chamber of Commerce tournament in 1959.

After discharge in 1960, Trevino returned to Dallas to become professional for five years at Hardy's Driving Range. His great ability in mano-a-mano golf competitions (choose your weapon and name your price) here and as an assistant country club pro in El Paso began to earn him a name among knowing golf fans in Texas. A few more took notice when he set a course record of 61 in the North Texas PGA tournament.

Perhaps the most significant step in his belated but budding career was marriage to Claudia Ann Fenley, now the attractive blonde mother of their two children, Lesley and Tony Lee. It was she who encouraged him to go on the tour for six months in 1967, winning "Rookie of the Year" honors, and to the U.S. Open in 1968, winning fame and a niche in golf history.

Unlike others who have captured the Open as virtual unknowns, Trevino never stopped winning big. He is well on his way toward a publicly-professed goal of earning a million dollars on the tour.

"Being on the tour is real fun for me," he says. "I hope I can pass on some of the enjoyment to the people who come out and watch us."

He has, Long before he won his first half million dollars, he had already won many million friends. Or, Fleas, that is.

Fast To Aid Padres Pitching

The Padre pitching staff, third best in the National League last season, received an unexpected boost for 1972 with the addition of Darcy Fast to the team's roster.

Fast, 24, had been voluntarily retired since last spring.

The left-hand relief specialist was acquired by the Padres May 7, 1970 in a trade with the Chicago Cubs. He spent the 1970 season with Tacoma and Salt Lake, both of the Pacific Coast League.

Fast appeared in eight games for the Cubs in 1968 with a 0-1 record.

Fast, 6'3 and 195, spent last year operating his own athletic supply business in Lacey, Wash. In a letter to Padre general manager Eddie Leishman, Fast said he had been working out regularly and is prepared to resume his baseball career.

Leishman said that Fast would report to spring training at Yuma.

Turnbull Booked Two Juveniles Jailed On Burglary Charges

the "Now Generation." It will help break the language barriers in communicating Christ, Rev. Turnbull said.

BOB TURNBULL

Turnbull was featured in several TV series and major motion pictures. He became known as "The Chaplain of Waikiki Beach" when that honor was officially bestowed upon him by Hawaii Governor John E. Burns. He is the minister of youth for the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, internationally known as the Penthouse Church of Waikiki, and also has an extensive and effective street ministry.

Active in Hawaii

He is the founder of the "Waikiki Chaplaincy" and "The Bob Turnbull Christian Association," non-denominational Christian corporations working with the youth of Hawaii. He is a chaplain with the Honolulu Police Department, assistant track and field coach at the University of Hawaii, and founder and main speaker of "Sun and Soul Talk," a non-denominational service for the beach crowd held each Sunday morning on the sand outside the Hilton Hawaiian Village Beach Hotel.

Rev. Turnbull is founder of Hale Kokua (House of Help) and organized HOTLINE, a 24-hour emergency telephone counseling service. Named "Man of the Year" by the Waikiki Junior Chamber of Commerce, he is also featured on radio and has authored several books and Christian tracts.

Other seminar speakers will include Morris Cerullo, president of World Evangelism; Bob Bartlett, founder-director of Philadelphia Teen Challenge; Chuck Smith, pastor of Calvary Chapel, known as the most outstanding "Jesus People" church in America; and Dr. Wayman R. Spence, director of the Tulsa Rehabilitation Center.

Others are Herb Elinwood of Gov. Ronald Reagan's staff; Sonny Argunzoin, pastor and founder of "Addict's Church"; Michael Warnke, once high priest of a 1500-member satan-worshipping organization; and Dick Handley, well-known Southern California street evangelist.

Topics will include drug identification, addict family relations, sexual perversion and the growth of witchcraft.

Pre-registration is required for both the World Conference and the Contact Clinic. Further information may be obtained by writing to: Morris Cerullo World Evangelism, P.O. Box 901, San Diego, California, 92112, or telephoning (714) 278-4161.

One of every 20 Americans lives on a farm.

A Spring Valley juvenile and his Jamul accomplice were arrested in Spring Valley last Tuesday night on charges of burglary of a gas station at 9415 Jamacha rd.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, a hitchhiker in the area noticed the burglary in progress and phoned the Sheriff's Office.

When deputies arrived on the scene a few minutes later, the two youths were still inside the gas station, having gained entry by breaking a window.

A search of the suspect revealed a screwdriver and a pair of pliers. After questioning, the suspects indicated that they had taken several items from the station and had hidden them in an adjacent field.

Hidden under some brush in the field, deputies discovered three quarts of motor oil, a battery, one case of Coca Cola, and a set of used spark plugs.

The two teams combined for a WHL record 45 penalties, eclipsing the old mark of 35 penalties in a game. Phoenix had 23 penalties and the Gulls had 22 — the old WHL mark for penalties by a team in a game was 20.

The penalty totals — 74 for San Diego, 63 for Phoenix, and a total of 137 — were all records for a Gulls' game, but not league marks.

Brian McDonald and Willie O'Ree of the Gulls, and Ted McCaskill of Phoenix were all given match penalties in the game as referee Andy Helmond had a busy evening.

First Aid Course Offered by Red Cross

A Multi-Media Standard First Aid Course, offered to assist in meeting the need for personnel trained under the newly enacted Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, is scheduled by the San Diego County Chapter, American National Red Cross.

Mr. S. K. Emery, Chapter Chairman, stressed that, although the course is primarily geared to assist small industries, it is open to the general public on a first-come-first-served basis. The class is limited to twenty persons and will be taught between 8:15 and 5 on Saturday, January 8.

Reservations must be made by calling the Chapter at 291-2620 no later than January 5th.

TV's Bob Dale On The Mend

Bob Dale, KFMB Television's "man in the bow tie" and host of the station's "Payday Movie" weekdays at 3 p.m., is recuperating from a bout with hepatitis.

Dale entered the hospital December 13 for a series of tests. Attending physicians have indicated that he will be able to return to his duties at Channel 8 possibly within 60 days.

Askew Gives Warning On Carbon Monoxide Danger

The County of San Diego Department of Public Health warned that carbon monoxide poisoning, which very nearly took seven San Diego lives recently, is a seasonal danger.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said scarcely a winter goes by without some deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning occurring in San Diego County. The carbon monoxide poisoning is caused, he said, by improperly vented heaters.

"An Ocean Beach family of five and two of their friends came extremely close to being killed last month by carbon monoxide from a heater with an obstructed vent," Askew said.

At the request of the Health Department, the Coroner's Office made determinations of the carbon monoxide level in blood samples taken from the victims while they were hospitalized.

"The carbon monoxide in these people averaged 40.5 to 76 percent saturation," Dr. Askew said. "Fifty percent and over causes death. This level would probably have been reached in another hour."

He added that because of the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning, state law requires that only approved vented gas heaters be installed in homes and all other dwelling places. Open flame heaters are illegal. Without any vent to the outdoor air, gases are not carried outside.

"People staying in a closed room with an unvented heater will develop headaches, drowsiness and malaise. Our advice is never to turn on any kind of heater without a window open at least an inch. If you are in doubt about the condition of your gas heater, have it checked by a gas appliance expert. If you feel seriously ill at any time, call your physician at once."

Adoption Of Goals Eyed By Planning Assn.

Adoption of goals from at least two subcommittees is expected to highlight the January 13 meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association executive committee, according to association chairman Jim Dorman.

Expected to be adopted are goals listed by the education and public utilities subcommittees, while those from the parks and recreation and transportation subcommittees may also be ready.

Those subcommittees which have not formulated goals for executive committee adoption are expected to discuss progress at the meeting.

When adoption of goals from most or all of the subcommittees has been completed by the executive committee, the goals will be presented to the general membership for approval, Dorman said.

EXCISE REBATE — "Yes, Walter, there really is —," Santa or not, Walter Grzanka (left) is receiving his rebate check for the excise tax he paid when he purchased his car. He and thousands of others received rebates averaging $200 on auto purchases made since August 15. Presenting the check is Lyle Conaway, president of Corral Ford in Lemon Grove where Grzanka made his purchase.

Liquor Store Robbed Here

Armed robbers made off with between $25 and $40 from the Hi-Lo Liquor Store at 2805 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove last Sunday evening.

According to Sheriff's Department reports, three black youths, ranging from 12 to 20 years of age, entered the store at about 11 p.m. Sunday night.

Each of the suspects picked out various items, apparently for purchase, but as the clerk prepared to ring up the sales, one of the trio pulled a long-barreled revolver, demanding money.

After receiving the cash, all three suspects backed out the front door and ran south on Imperial. All three wore knit ski-caps.

COUSELOR HELPS — Leo Koran, of San Carlos, associate conciliation counselor, for the Conciliation Court talks with clients in his office on the fourth floor of the County Courthouse. The Conciliation Court, a function of the Superior Court, is available to any County residents who want help with marital problems. Clients come from all economic levels and all areas of the County.

Conciliation Court: Crisis Center For Treating Shaky Marriages

In a corner of the fourth floor of the County Courthouse Annex is a most unusual court — a court where no judge sits in judgement, where there are no defendants or prosecutors, only troubled men and women seeking help with their marital problems.

It's San Diego County's Conciliation Court, a function of the Superior Court, administered and supervised by the Presiding Judge, the Honorable Byron F. Lindsley.

Here in quiet, softly-lit offices, two men and a woman operate a crisis center dedicated to treating shaky marriages. Conciliation counselors William Brockley, Leo Koran and Frances Margolin last year received more than 1,200 petitions for counseling.

"Our clients are referred to us by judges handling dissolution petitions, by lawyers, by friends of the couple who have used our services or know about it," said Brockley, chief conciliation counselor. "In some cases they're self-referred — just walk in. They all have one thing in common — they see their marriages going to pieces and are looking for help."

In cases where no dissolution petition had been filed, two out of three couples were reconciled. Where couples were already in litigation, one third were reconciled.

"When a couple comes to us, they are seen by a counselor," Brockley said. "We explain that we are not here to judge them; we're here to help them communicate their problems. If both agree, they file a petition, an application for counseling. Then they meet with a counselor — first together, then separately, then once more together."

Sometimes this is enough to effect a reconciliation. If they decide to set aside dissolution proceedings, Judge Lindsley can sign an order. In many cases, whether reconciled or not, further counseling is recommended and they are referred to private marriage counselors.

"A vast amount of the County of San Diego services are devoted to people problems and problem people. The Conciliation Court's main service is helping people realign their ideas, understand themselves and their partners, their individual needs and how these have been fulfilled or unfulfilled. With some couples this is enough for a reconciliation. For others, it helps them achieve a healthy dissolution which can lead to a better remarriage," he said.

Couples coming to the Conciliation Court are a representative cross-section of San Diego County residents. The services reach families of every economic level and from all areas of the County.

In the first six months of 1971, two new areas of court involvement dramatically increased, custody and visitation counseling, and premarital evaluations and recommendations to the Presiding Judge.

During 1970, Frances Margolin, associate conciliation counselor, set up a pilot program to study the effectiveness of short-term counseling with couples engaged in disputes relating to custody and visitation.

Cases were referred by a

Judge of the Superior Court, with the consent of both attorneys and both parties, or by self-referral. During the pilot program, in 90% of the cases it was possible, through counseling, for the couple to reach a mutually acceptable agreement regarding custody and to develop a schedule for visitation. Often this agreement could be incorporated into a court order without further litigation, averting destructive adversary type proceedings.

"We try to help both parents realize that their responsibility to their children doesn't end with separation or dissolution since they are still parents. The children still need the utmost in love, understanding and sound guidance," Mrs. Margolin said. "Sometimes, parents lose sight of this in the emotional strains of separation."

During the first six months of 1971, court referrals for this type of counseling increased nearly 400% over the same period in 1970.

In November, 1970, the State Assembly passed a bill requiring all persons under 18 years of age to have both parental and judicial permission to marry. The law is intended to prevent hasty marriages among young people, who have the highest dissolution rate.

It also aims at helping young people begin their marriages on solid ground through premarital counseling.
